

CTA Blasts Gov. Reagan's Action

SACRAMENTO--"It is regrettable that for political reasons a small minority of California senators has seen fit to abdicate the Legislature's responsibility and hand its authority over to one man, Gov. Ronald Reagan."

This was the reaction of Executive Director Jack D. Rees of the 145,000 member California Teachers Association (CTA) to the Senate's failure Oct. 1 and 2 to override Reagan's veto of SB 1592 by Sen. Ralph Dills (D-San Pedro).

SB 1592 would have provided a one-time cushion against inflation for the public schools at an estimated net cost to the state of about $25 million.

The Senate failed by two votes of getting the required two-thirds majority, 27, to override the veto. There were six "No" votes.

"It is unconscionable that a minority in the Senate, which passed the bill originally with 27 votes after exhaustive consideration, should toss away all that effort and let one man's questionable judgment prevail," Rees charged.

"Had SB 1592 constituted an unjustifiable raid on the state treasury, one could understand the Senate's reluctance to override," Rees continued, "but such was not the case."

Rees denounced as sophistry the governor's claim that school finance bills of 1972 and 1973 had increased school revenues beyond the current 10-plus per cent inflation rate.

"He conveniently neglected to mention that for the five years prior to 1973-74 the Legislature and his administration had turned away the pleas of educators and concerned individual legislators for additional state funds to help the schools cope with spiraling costs.

"The $500 million or so given the schools in 1973-74 was catch-up money," Rees pointed out, "and this was implied in AB 1267 of 1973 by its provision for a 6 to 7 per cent annual inflation escalator."

"The only problem with the escalator," he added, "was that no one could foresee then that it would be far too little in the face of today's double-digit inflation rate. And that is what gave rise to SB 1592."

Rees noted that the Dills' bill would have added only about 1.5 per cent to the state's contribution to schools this year for a total increase of about 6.5 per cent.

"In no way could one call that a raid on state funds," he asserted.

"What many people do not realize, but the governor does," Rees stated, "is that the current 10 per cent rise in local school district assessed valuation means that $50 million or more in school costs will be shifted from the state treasury to local property taxpayers without legislation such as SB 1592."

"Therefore," he charged, "in refusing to sign SB 1592, Gov. Reagan reneged on his promise, made when he signed SB 90 in 1972, that relief for property taxpayers would be a continuing goal of his administration."

Talcott Warns Of Pres. Veto

Congressman Burt L. Talcott warned in Washington recently that large additions to the Supplemental Appropriations Bill for 1975 may invite a Presidential veto.

Talcott, a member of the Appropriations Committee which is handling the bill, noted that, "The Supplemental includes approximately $2 billion for the new community development block grant program, over $593 million in impact aid, as well as $1 billion 800 million for Disadvantaged Student Grants for '75 under Title I of ESEA. The passage of this legislation is very important to our District and the Nation. The Congress may have harmed the very programs it pretended to help by voting additional funds over the Budget and thereby rising a Presidential veto."

"If the Supplemental bill is vetoed because of the large additions to the Budget--thereby adding to inflation--the urgently needed funds for housing, urban development and education will be delayed. Delays are harmful to agencies receiving Federal subsidies.

"The greed of some special interests can jeopardize many other worthy programs."

In other action he urged immediate action by the Congress to prevent the imposition of FDA regulations which would impose arbitrary strictures on the consumer's right to use vitamins and other food supplements.

Talcott called upon Representative Harley Staggers, Chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, to hold hearings on the FDA proposals to permit comprehensive examination and debate on the matter. He told Staggers that, "All legislation should be thoroughly considered by the appropriate legislative Committee and this controversial and important question deserves your immediate attention."

Congressman Talcott noted that, "There is a concern that if the 93rd Congress does not act promptly, the FDA will exceed the intent of the Congress and restrict the consumer's right of choice by administrative fiat and this we cannot permit."

EDITORIAL

Too often, people are the "things" that burn.

This is the theme of Fire Prevention Week 1974, the seven days from Oct. 6-12 when the nation makes a concerted effort to alert everyone to the hazards of fire and explosion in everyday living. Now being observed for the 53rd time, Fire Prevention Week is sponsored internationally by the National Fire Protection Association.

Imaginative campaigns in communities large and small, urban and rural, help motivate citizens to take action to ward off the possibility of accidental fire. At the same time, these campaigns encourage everyone to learn what to do in case of a fire emergency wherever they are.

When people hear of "fire losses," they usually think first of burning buildings, forests and other "things" -- not the people who may be caught in these fires. Yet so many people are victims of fire that burn injuries have reached epidemic proportions. (The summary report of the National Commission on Fire Prevention and Control conservatively estimates the number of injuries from fire and explosion in the United States at 300,000 a year!)

Slightly more than half of the 12,000 fire deaths annually in the U.S. occur where people live. These victims of residential fires most often are children and elderly persons -- age groups of people who do not understand how to respond to fire dangers, or who are physically unable to save themselves.

This national "epidemic" of injurious and sometimes fatal fires can be controlled only by serious attention to fire prevention wherever people live and work, study and find recreation. Concern about fire must also extend to such basics as learning what to do in case clothing catches fire...observing the practical guidelines for leaving young children and elderly persons in the care of capable, conscientious babysitters or companions...working out and rehearsing a family escape plan, especially for escape from nighttime fire.

Heartache of losing a family member through fire far overshadows the financial heartbreak of seeing a home or business vanish in flames. With each mature individual lies the choice of risking family and belongings or being fire-safety-conscious not only during Fire Prevention Week each October but all year.

Big Band Sound Is Back In Monterey

The big band sound is rapidly coming back into popularity in Monterey County, and more and more citizens are clamoring for it.

An example of this is The Stephen Paul Orchestra which will be appearing at the Marina American Legion Hall, Saturday Night, November 2, with a "Dance Night of Nostalgia."

Stephen Paul began his career as a dance orchestra leader in 1949. The fifteen-member band was presented in the Primo Amatori Show Circuit which toured the coast of California during the season of '49-'50. In 1951 the band disbanded because of military obligations of the majority of its members.

In 1955 the band reorganized, using most of the original members, and again became active in accepting engagements. It was the idea of the leader to present to the public only the finest in dance music. Therefore the unit is not a jazz band, but is a well-organized dance orchestra, pleasing to look at, pleasing to the ear, and most important, pleasing to dance to.

The band has appeared at the Avalon and Surf Clubs of San Francisco; Sweets and the Sands Ball Rooms of Oakland; Mission and Trianon, San Diego; Balconades and Rainbow of San Jose and the Coconut Grove in Santa Cruz.

It has appeared on KGO, KPX and KSNB TV of San Francisco; KNTV of San Jose and KYA Radio.

Hotel engagements have included the Sheraton Palace, Mark Hopkins, Fairmont and St. Francis Hotels of San Francisco and Hotel Grant and San Diego Hotels of San Diego.

So for a full night, long to be remembered, be at The American Legion Ball Room in Marina come November 2 for the finest sounds on the Monterey Peninsula.

More Help Pledged for Minority Group Veterans

HOLLYWOOD, FLA.--Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan pledged to do even more for veterans who are members of minority groups in a talk before the AMVETS convention here.

Brennan, who received the Silver Helmet Award from the organization, said the Nation cannot tolerate "the fact that unemployment falls heaviest on the disabled veteran, on the minority-group veteran and on the young veteran."

He added: "It's tough to find a job today when you're young and black and unskilled and you lost a leg or an arm or an eye in Vietnam. We have to do more about the employment problems facing these veterans who served their nation so well."

Reminding the group he had met with a group of commanders of leading veterans' organizations in July to seek ways to find more jobs for Vietnam-era veterans, Brennan said:

"Tonight, I pledge once more--and convey the pledge of President Ford--to see that these Americans who served their nation so well in uniform may now take their rightful places working in civilian life. "I know that, working together under the leadership of a President committed to full opportunity for all in a healthy economy, we will achieve our mutual goal of providing a better break for veterans."

The Labor Department, Brennan said, is working with the state employment services, the National Alliance of Businessmen, and many employers and veterans' organizations to place veterans in their old jobs or new ones.

New Prepaid Health Plan

A new prepaid health plan is enrolling Medi-Cal beneficiaries in Santa Clara County.

For the past month, Santa Clara Health Services, Inc. has been sending representatives door-to-door in various communities to explain the benefits of prepaid health care to families in Medi-Cal, the state-federal health care program for California's low income population.

State Deputy Director of Health Jerry Green explained that a prepaid health plan offers patients a broad range of medical services from physicians and other health care providers -- hospitals, nursing homes, pharmacists, optometrists, podiatrists, etc. -- for one fixed fee paid monthly to cover all needed care. For Medi-Cal beneficiaries the fee is paid by the state.

Green said that the single fee prepaid method offers advantages for both patients and providers of medical services. In a prepaid health plan, Medi-Cal limitations on use of medical services and facilities do not apply, nor is it necessary to obtain prior authorization (advance permission) for some treatments as it is in the fee-for-service Medi-Cal program.

Accidental Poisonings

Child-proof caps on medicine bottles and other dangerous household products have begun to stem the tide of accidental poisonings of American children, reports the National Enquirer.

In the first full year that the tops were used on aspirin bottles, child poisonings from aspirin alone dropped nearly 20 percent.

Over the past two years, nine other household products -- including furniture polish, liniments, prescription drugs, oven cleaners, turpentine, and lighter fluids -- have come under the Poison Prevention Act, said George Maisel, director of the Poison Prevention Packaging Division of the Consumer Product Safety Commission in Washington, D.C.

Maisel noted, "The Act now covers 65 percent of the types of products involved in child poisonings, and we expect the number of poisonings to drop even more when we include other products such as pesticides and paint solvents."

National Debt

Out of every income-tax dollar collected in the United States, some 17 cents goes to pay the interest on the national debt, reports the National Enquirer.

U.S. Sen. Harry Byrd, Jr., (D.Va.) recently told the Senate, "According to the Treasury Dept., interest on the debt for the current fiscal year will total $31.5 billion. This must be paid for by wage earner's taxes," he declared.

Senator Byrd made the remark in explaining to the Senate why he had voted against a reduction in taxes.

Smoking Blood Donors

Heavy smokers who donate blood may be endangering the lives of the people they're trying to help, reports the National Enquirer.

"We're convinced that high carbon monoxide levels in the blood caused by smoking constitute a danger in blood transfusions," says Dr. Richard Stewart, head of a University of Wisconsin research team which just completed a 3-year study involving 29,000 blood donors.

"If the blood donated by a heavy smoker -- someone who smokes two or three packs a day -- is given to someone with a borderline heart condition, the results could be fatal," said Stewart.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

As I have never written an article for a paper, I wish you would look this over and make necessary changes. I realize it is rather long but for me it's only a short part of the game.

It is very important this article gets into your paper, for after winning the first three games with scores as high as 42-6, the Black Knights (football team) are having a demoralizing time out on the field.

They are doing great out there and no one is letting them know it.

Fort Ord, Monterey, Salinas and Pacific Grove all have articles regarding their team, but not the Seaside POST. Why?

What other engagements can be so important that you are unable to attend one game and write it up? These boys are giving Seaside a reputation that you can be proud of, just ask any of the other teams who they want to beat the most and the answer is naturally Seaside, only because they are the toughest.

If you had attended last Sunday's game you could have seen for yourself, the way the Black Knights played in the first half you would have thought they were beginners. They did not have the spirit or the will to win. They were defeated before they hit the field. As I have attended all their games I can see where they are lacking and basically it is non-recognition for the game well played. They play hard and after four fantastic games, why continue?

You are the Seaside paper, these are Seaside boys, why not let them know you recognize them? Seaside finally has something to shout about and as usual they ignore it. WHY?

Thank you for your time, Mrs. Jones
A Seaside Mother of a Player.

P.S. Don't think that for one second I've given up on these boys. I'll be at their next 4 games, win or lose, but if you are what you claim to be, the Seaside paper, you'll put the time aside and write these boys a great article, they deserve it. If for any reason you don't have a schedule for their games, the Young Adults for Action should, as they sponsor this team; if not, they can inform you how to get hold of Coach Tomlay Cross. BEEN MUCH

After being a resident of Seaside for 13 years, try to help me give these boys the recognition they deserve, as in the past 13 years there hasn't been much said or done concerning Seaside that has made me more prouder than these boys have made me. I can only say whenever asked at a game which team I'm for, I lift my head high and said proudly: "Blacks Knights of Course."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Jones, I appreciate your letter, and totally agree with you. I don't know if you are aware of it, but I lead the fight to gain some uniforms for the Young Adults For Action Teams last year, and got penalized for focusing attention on their plight. I must apologize for my not being present at the other games, but there is no excuse that either I, or the boys' parents, or the citizens of Seaside for our complete lack of support for these outstanding youngsters.

Were they in the streets attacking businesses, or involved in some criminal action then the support would be forthcoming with much gusto. But because they are off the streets, developing character, and demonstrating their abilities to become an asset rather than a detriment, we have let them down.

I offer my sincere apology, and assure you that I shall be counted at the next four games. Tom Nash-Editor

Black Named

ATLANTA--Gay Plair Cobb has been named program specialist in the Atlanta regional office of the Women's Bureau, U.S. Department of Labor, according to James E. Patching, the Department's assistant regional director for employment standards.

Ms. Cobb's responsibilities include assisting in carrying out programs to increase employment opportunities for women and minorities and to eliminate discrimination against these groups in employment.

The eight states served by the Atlanta office are Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Before joining the Labor Department, Ms. Cobb was director of the Bay Area Broadcast Skills Bank, KTVU-TV, San Francisco-Oakland, California. In that position she was responsible for the development of a program to assist the broadcast industry in the area in meeting its affirmative action employment responsibilities toward minority communities.

Sweetheart Of King Junior High

This week Martin Luther King Junior High Schools salutes Lucille Washington. She is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Alfred Washington of 1662 Kenneth Street. She comes from a family of four brothers and four sisters. She did spend a few of her preschool years in Germany. She is a former student of Juan Cabrillo.

Lucille's personality and charm are assets which certainly contributed towards earning for her the title

"Sweetheart of King" for the 1974-75 school year. Lucille stated: "I am honored that the students selected me for this important position. I hope I can live up to the high standards this title requires."

Wholesale Prices Continue To Climb

There seems to be an assumption by our new Presidential Administration, that if there is a continuation of meetings and conferences over the dangerous turn that this inflation-recession situation has taken, the whole thing may just go away. At least the President's posture that his administration will not be introducing any new measures to combat our failing economy until early 1975, has to be taken seriously.

His economists in any event must know something that we don't know, since there does not seem to be a recognition by his advisers that platitudes about the recession are providing the working people of America with no solutions for their depressed financial circumstances.

The President just last week stated that we were not going to have a recession. It seems highly irresponsible to me, to make such a statement, when the U.S. Labor Department releases figures which indicate that wholesale prices in August increased 3.9 percent. And further, that if the pace of this increase continues, wholesale prices will be 58.2 percent higher in August 1975 than they were in August 1974!

The drama in the wholesale price rise, is the fact that this is the second highest increase since 1946 (in August 1973 it jumped 6.2 percent). In more common language, the wholesale price index was 167.4 at the end of August; this means goods that cost $100 wholesale in 1967 (which is the base period), now cost $167.40.

One can hardly talk about a recession not being a recession, when your cost of living continues to outpace your ability to earn sufficient dollars to keep up or modestly break even.

This severe jump in wholesale prices has not been felt by the consumer yet - but it will be. Its greatest significance however is not just the fact that the wholesale price increase will be passed on to the consumer, but that the inflationary trend of the economy shows no sign of slowing.

Treasury Secretary, William Simon, who recently agreed that there is little prospect for any slowing of inflation this year, also in talking about business profits suggests that "we cannot look upon profits as an unnecessary evil, as I fear many Americans now do. We must avoid legislation and regulation that is punitive of profits honestly earned."

It may be appropriate now for the country to begin thinking about meaningful economic controls which would include wages, prices, and profits.
